DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1-8, 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

3. Claim 1 is confusing. The specification states that the parts 8,9 are mounted on supporting structure 10. How can the parts be mounted on a movable roof frame supported by the supporting structure as well? In addition, what constitutes the movable roof frame and how is it different from the roof parts 3,4?

Claims 5-7 recite roof structure, which appears to be the supporting structure of claim 1, without antecedent.

Claim 12 lacks antecedent for "individual, separate exterior parts", already recited in claim 1.

4. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

5. Claims 1-8, 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The examiner is now totally puzzled by the latest amendment. What is the disclosed structure “movable roof frame supported by the supporting structure” and how are the painted areas mounted to the movable roof frame and not to the supporting structure 10 as shown? It would appear that applicant is claiming structure not originally disclosed.

Specification

6. The specification is objected to as failing to provide proper antecedent basis for the claimed subject matter. See 37 CFR 1.75(d)(1) and MPEP § 608.01(o). Correction of the following is required: “movable roof frame of the supporting structure”.
7. This objection is repeated.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

9. Claims 1-8, 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over either Furst et al. or Danzl et al. in view of any one of Reinsch, Kloppe et al., and Kano et al.
10. Both Furst et al. and Danzl et al. have individual rigid parts. Painting of such parts is common knowledge in the art for aesthetics. All three secondary references detail covers for roof side rails (supporting structures), Reinsch to cover smoothly an extruded rail and both Kloppe et al. and Kano et al. to form drip edges at the juncture of roof and side window.

Painting of laterally exposed body panel is common knowledge in the art, obvious to use here for aesthetic considerations and not a patentable distinction.

11. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill to provide in either Furst et al. or Danzl et al. side rail covers as taught by any one of Reinsch, Kloppe et al., and Kloppe et al. in order to form an aesthetic roof or a roof with drip edge to prevent water intrusion into the passenger compartment and further obvious to paint such covers for aesthetics.

As applicant has not challenged this statement of judicial notice, it is made final.

- 12. As to claims 2 to 3, both Reinsch and Kloppe et al. teach plastic covers.
- 13. As to claims 4, 5, and 6, Kloppe et al. and Kano et al. teach clip structure.
- 14. As to claim 7, Reinsch teaches bonding.
- 15. As to claim 8, transparent sunroof panels are of common knowledge in the art, obvious to use here for increased illumination. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill to provide in either combination above middle section transparent panel for that reason.
- 16. As to claim 12, the parts are located at lateral edges of the roof.

Response to Arguments

- 17. Applicant's arguments filed 3/9/2009 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.
- 18. Nothing more can be stated until the examiner is clear as to the structure that applicant is claiming.
- 19. Applicant is encouraged, if prosecution continues, to provide a marked up copy of the claims with all reference numerals added in order to help clarify this confusing application.

Conclusion

20. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
